

ARCHDIOCESE OF ST ANDREWS & EDINBURGH
Commission for Ecumenism & Interfaith Dialogue

Meet the Commission Members...

Fr Jeremy Bath, VE

St John Cantius & St Nicholas, Broxburn and St Philomena's Church in Winchburgh

Fr Jeremy is the Vicar Episcopal for the commission and has been involved in interfaith activity for the last 30 years. He visited Bosnia in 2020 as part of an Interfaith delegation, and also represents the Archbishop in various interfaith and ecumenism events across Scotland.

Anthony Kramers

St Mary, Star of the Sea, Leith

Anthony has been part of the ecumenical community of L'Arche for 36 years, sharing life among people with and without learning disabilities. A community musician who curates a Youtube channel for da Noust, he is also part of a local Teams group for married couples.

Anne McEvoy

Sacred Heart & St Margaret, Penicuik & Loanhead

Anne takes an active part in Penicuik Churches Together and has been involved with The World Day of Prayer and other ecumenical activities for many years, both in Aberdeen and since moving to the Archdiocese.

Tom McEvoy

Sacred Heart & St Margaret, Penicuik & Loanhead

Tom, member of the Scottish Churches Rural Group (within Action of Churches Together in Scotland) since 2009, is involved in Penicuik Churches Together and (when circumstances allow) attends ecumenical Men's Breakfast at St Mark's, Oxfangs.

Steven Strother

SS Mary and David, Hawick

Steven is a primary teacher who is a member of the Community of St Aidan & St Hilda, an ecumenical body drawing inspiration from the lives of the Celtic saints through which he has developed relationships with people from diverse Christian backgrounds.

Frank McFarlane

St Agatha's, Methil

Frank retired from the Fire Service in 2010 and is a founder member of Fife Interfaith Group.

Sheila Hay

St Margaret's, South Queensferry

Sheila is retired and has been involved in Ecumenism for 17 years.

Gordon Connolly

St Nicholas and John Cantius, Broxburn

Gordon is resident in Livingston but regularly returns to Broxburn to play in the Broxburn Silver Band, which is closely related to the Church. He is retired and formerly worked with West Lothian Council overseeing Community Facilities and was latterly the Council's International Officer.
